Fridge/Freezer Standard

- Detect water leakage in time.
- Prevents water damage under refrigerators and freezers.

Prevents water damage.
New design with raised front.

The standard series of condensation protectors are placed under refrigerators and freezers to prevent condensation and water damage from hidden areas under the appliances. The standard series has the widest range of sizes on the market.

The leakage from refrigerators and freezers is often difficult to detect, as small amounts of water often escape from the condensation container (located under the refrigerator/freezer) or the leakage runs out through the door.

We have improved the design of our refrigerator/freezer mat, which is now designed with a raised front to better hold minor water leaks.

In the event of major water leaks, the water can flow over the front edge in the centre front of the refrigerator or freezer. The leakage can then be detected, and unnecessary water damage avoided.

The mat is transparent and made of impact-resistant polypropylene plastic and is available in several standard sizes. The assembly instructions are easy to follow and are of course approved by Säker Vatten.

The product is accepted in Byggvarubedömningen and assessed by Sundahus.

The product has no sharp edges.

Meets the requirements
